THE LAST MINUTE RUSH...

So, you are still trying to get the Christmas cards out...especially to the clever people who have already sent you one! What about the pressies? You know, rosé is a great option as a gift. No longer the unfashionable slurp enjoyed by those with uneducated palates, rosé has hit the big time! Aunty Marg who liked an easy tipple now finds herself in with the cool set. 'Heavens forbid!', she said.

Easy on your pocket, stylish and just great served chilled with turkey and cranberry sauce, grilled prawns, salmon or creamy blue cheeses, rosé is the go! With green ribbon and its pretty red label it will look so good that you'll think twice about wrapping it. As the man said, "At $13 a bottle delivered to your door it's a no-brainer".

MORE TABLE IDEAS...

Most definitely not NZ Sauvignon Blanc. The gooseberry bush and passionfruit are lurking in the flavour profile but not a hint of cats piss or sweaty armpits! Fortunately for those who adore those flavours in Sauvignon Blanc there are heaps of New Zealand examples in the shops. For the rest of you... try our delicious drop. The bonus is it also looks great on the table with its stunning new emerald green label and gold logo. Teamed with the rosé the table decorations are almost done!

REDS UNDER THE BED...

Uncle Barry has his cellar under the bed...nice and dark, pretty cool and out of sight of that pesky nephew who'd drink a man out of house and home. Baz would be bound to appreciate a couple of new reds to nurture. How about a Jezebel (Cabernet Merlot) or the Cabernet Sauvignon?

The Cabernet Shiraz Jeremy is a snap at $13 bottle and wine guru James Halliday scored it 90/100!

Impress the boss with a Ricardo Shiraz...we will make sure it goes out wearing its snappy gold medal.

You won't need Dan Murphy for this lot...sensationally priced and can be delivered to your door on or before the 21st December if you get your order to us on or before the 17th December.

Our best wishes for the New Year,

Gaule Sinclair
